For Immediate Release

Spartan Chassis Receives $3 Million Subcontract from BAE Systems

Charlotte, MI - April 19, 2011 – Spartan Chassis, Inc., a subsidiary of Spartan Motors, Inc. (NASDAQ: SPAR), will integrate and deliver key chassis components for RG-33 Special Operations Command (SOCOM) Mine Resistant Ambush Protected (MRAP) vehicles following a subcontract order worth over $3 million by defense contractor BAE Systems. The vehicles are scheduled for delivery in the second and third quarters of 2011.

“The threat of improvised explosive devices, or IEDs, is clearly alive and well around the world,” said John Szytkiel, President and CEO of Spartan Motors. “Spartan continues to leverage its expertise, speed and agility alongside original equipment manufacturers such as BAE Systems to fulfill the needs of the U.S. Government. We appreciate our ongoing partnership with BAE Systems and together, we are firmly committed to producing reliable vehicle solutions in support of American and coalition forces.”

Spartan has been awarded multiple subcontract orders to support the production of advanced tactical vehicles under the Iraqi Light Armored Vehicle (ILAV), MRAP and Medium Mine Protected Vehicle (MMPV) programs since 2006. Spartan also continues its ongoing support of MRAP prime contractors and the U.S. Government by providing spare and replacement parts for many of the MRAP vehicles built by the company.
